

CLOSING DATE: April 26th, 2023

We're Hiring!

A wide-angle photograph of a coastal city with numerous buildings and several large ships docked at a pier. The water in the foreground is partially frozen with ice floes and many seagulls.

HEAD, SCHOOL OF MARITIME STUDIES

THE OPPORTUNITY

The Fisheries and Marine Institute is searching for an innovative and dynamic individual to lead its School of Maritime Studies. The Marine Institute enjoys an outstanding reputation as one of the world's most respected centres for marine learning and applied research. The School of Maritime Studies offers undergraduate certificate, diploma, degree, and graduate degree programs along with a well-established portfolio of industrial training and a growing research presence.

THE CANDIDATE

The Head of the School of Maritime Studies is a senior leadership position within the Fisheries and Marine Institute and Memorial University. This position will be responsible for the development of a future vision, strategic direction and the day-to-day leadership of academic programs, research and industry partnerships for the school. The successful applicant will develop and maintain relationships with community, industry, academic and government partners to ensure continued effectiveness of academic programs and research activities.

Candidates possessing a related graduate degree combined with a minimum of 15 years of maritime industry experience in progressively responsible leadership positions are encouraged to apply. Applicants with an equivalent combination of experience and education may be considered.

CLICK HERE TO APPLY!